Michael Filsinger

---

President, Faculty Senate
Virginia Peninsula Community College

Michael Filsinger, assistant professor of mathematics at Virginia Peninsula Community College, is president of the College's Faculty Senate. He also serves as president of the Virginia Mathematics Association for Two-Year Colleges. He received master's degrees in mathematics and computer science in 1992 and 1994, respectively, from the University of Cincinnati. He has over 25 years of experience as a college educator, teaching curricular and developmental mathematics, computer science, and computer engineering courses.

PRESIDENT'S AWARD

Jude Meadows

---

Jude Meadows lives in Williamsburg and enrolled at VPCC in fall 2021 as a high school senior. He is earning an associate degree in social science and will be attending Virginia Tech in the fall to pursue a degree in political science. He would also like to earn a master's degree as he aspires for a career in civil service. He is the son of Heidi and Scott Meadows of Williamsburg.

“My experience at Virginia Peninsula has been one of growth. I have been able to grow my knowledge and continue my education by taking a variety of courses that pertain to both my career goals and personal interests. I have been surrounded by people from all walks of life along with their ideas and opinions. Through meeting new people and discussing all sorts of things, I have been able to grow my understanding of others around me. To give an example, I was able to hear an entire spectrum of ideas and beliefs during my ethics class discussions. These discussions exposed me to perspectives on life and morals that I had never thought of prior and likely would not have been exposed to at a four-year university/college.”

VICE PRESIDENT'S AWARD

Lindsay Swanson

---

Lindsay Swanson is from Williamsburg/James City County and enrolled at VPCC in fall 2021 with dual enrollment classes through Jamestown High School. She began full time at the College the following fall and will be receiving an associate degree in social science. She started at VCU in January and is working toward a bachelor's in psychology. She also would like to earn a master's in the same discipline. She aspires to be a college academic adviser/school counselor. She is the daughter of Roberta Jones and Carl Swanson of Williamsburg. While at VPCC, she was a member of the PTK honor society.

“I have had a phenomenal experience at Virginia Peninsula Community College. I originally chose to attend Virginia Peninsula Community College because it was financially viable for me while also allowing me to access a quality and diverse education. This high level of education was exemplified by supportive professors, small class sizes, and technological resources. Additionally, my experience here helped me build social and occupational skills inside and outside of the classroom. The flexibility allowed me to work while attending college, enabling me to gain useful experience on top of my education. My social skills were further strengthened through Phi Theta Kappa, and its community of educationally dedicated students.”

DANA B. HAMEL AWARD

John Eley, III

---

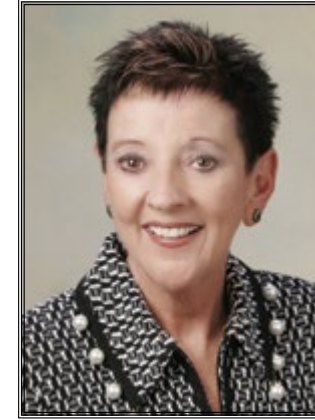

City Council
City of Newport News

John R. Eley III was elected to the Newport News City Council in 2022. The lifelong Newport News resident is a Menchville High School graduate, business owner, and former Newport News School Board member. He prioritizes workforce development, affordable housing, youth programs, economic growth, and quality education.

As a school board member, he led the integration of arts into the STEM curriculum across K-12, producing the school division's STEAM-focused educational programs allowing the introduction of new courses, including music production, engineering, and entrepreneurship. He also supported policies that increased the graduation rate to 93.4% and reduced dropouts to 2.2%. Further, he advocated for consistent annual wage increases for Newport News Public Schools System personnel.

Councilman Eley is also director of the What's Next Foundation, connecting residents with career training and financial stability programs. His anti-gang violence initiatives, such as the iCount Program, aim to enhance community safety, while he fosters partnerships between education and local businesses. Additionally, he volunteers in many community service endeavors.

DANA B. HAMEL AWARD

Dr. Ashby Kilgore

---

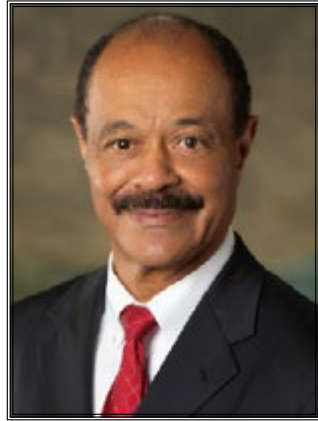

Co-founder
What's Next Foundation

Dr. Ashby Kilgore has more than 45 years in public education as a teacher, principal and deputy superintendent. She was appointed superintendent of Newport News Public Schools in 2007 and is the first woman to serve in the role. Under her leadership, initiatives such as Early College and Career Pathways with Thomas Nelson Community College (now Virginia Peninsula) boosted career certifications by 417%. With a focus on high expectations, the 30,000-student school division achieved a 95% graduation rate and 2% dropout rate.

Dr. Kilgore has received many accolades throughout her career. She was named an Old Dominion University Darden College of Education Fellow in 2012 and has received numerous awards, including a 2016 Urban League of Hampton Roads Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Community Leader Award in Education, the 2015 Humanitarian Award presented by the Virginia Center for Inclusive Communities, and the College's 2014 Medallion.

In retirement, she co-founded the What's Next Foundation with Newport News City Councilman John Eley, promoting workforce development in underserved areas through partnerships with VPCC. Dr. Kilgore also serves on the boards of the Virginia Community College System and the Virginia Living Museum.

Dr. Harold Marioneaux

Director of Dental Clinic
Virginia Peninsula Community College

Dr. Harold Marioneaux, Jr. joined Virginia Peninsula Community College in 2009 to head its new Dental Hygiene department. In his current role as Dental Clinic director, he leads all clinical practices, managing regulatory compliance, safety, and standards of care while providing a value-added service to the community. He was instrumental in establishing the clinic and securing appropriate accreditation from the Commonwealth of Virginia and the Commission on Dental Accreditation. Under his leadership, pass rates of board and licensing exams are at 100%, as is post-graduation employment.

He transitioned to academia after a hand injury ended his 10-year dentistry career in the early 1990s. His impactful career spans teaching at Old Dominion University and directing the Dozoretz National Institute for Mathematics and Applied Sciences at Norfolk State University. Joining Hampton University in 1999, he rose to dean of the School of Science, pioneering initiatives like a student performance monitoring system and establishing the university's largest full-time master's program, the Master of Medical Science.

In 2006, he launched AP Max, a venture aimed to improve student performance, after leaving Hampton University. His methodology resulted in a 92% increase in Hampton University's professional school admission rates, a 364% surge in selective AP test scores for Norfolk Public Schools, and a 94% graduation rate for medical or dental school attendees.

He holds a bachelor's degree from Hampton University, a Doctor of Dental Surgery from the Meharry Medical College School of Dentistry, a certificate in orthodontics from the United States Dental Institute, and a certificate in financial planning from Old Dominion University. Additionally, he served as a dental officer in the United States Navy and later a reservist (lieutenant commander) during Desert Storm/Desert Shield and the liberation of Kuwait..
