Notes:
1. For the purposes of this table, student enrollments are separated into four major locations of attendance: Hampton campus (Hampton), Historic Triangle campus (HT), distance education (Distance), and all other off-campus facilities (Off-campus).

Notes:
1. For the purposes of this table, student enrollments are separated into four major locations of attendance: Hampton campus (Hampton), Historic Triangle campus (HT), distance education (Distance), and all other off-campus facilities (Off-campus).
